ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.), Aug. 26.—[By the Associated Press.] Mrs. Victoria Hamilton, wife of R. H. Hamilton, today murderously assaulted Mary O'Donnell, a domestic in her employ, with a dagger, in-flicting wounds which will probably prove fatal. Mrs. Hamilton was arrested, and will be held to await the result of the girl's injuries. Mr. Hamilton is detained

The cause of the quarrel between the two women is not yet known. The wife not only attacked the servant, but cut the clothing nearly off her husband. A party traveling with Mrs. Hamilton, as her brother, and known as "Datty," is said to have been her lower.

ALEXANDER HAMILTON'S GRANDSON. PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 26.—A special to the Inquirer from Atlantic City says: Mrs: Hamilton is the wife of R. R. Hamilton Hamilton is the wife of R. R. Hamilton who is said to be a son of Gen. Schuyler Hamilton of New York and a grandson of Alexander Hamilton. The husband was in the room at the time of the stabbing. The whole affair is shrouded in mystery. Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton secured and moved into the front suite of rooms on the second floor of a cottage about five weeks ago. They said they lived in New York, and had just returned from California. They had a baby and the woman who was stabbed was its wet-nurse. They had every appearance of being wealthy. Mr. Hamilton is a large, handsome man of apparently 45 years of age, and his wife is a fine-looking woman several years his junior. He is a lawyer by profession, he stated after his arrest, and confessed to possessing an income of $18,000 a year, but beyond that he would say nothing that would reveal his identity. Mrs. Hamilton was, upon the woman's statement, arrested and locked up, upon a charge of felonious assault, with her husband, to await an investigation.

The woman's wound is believed to be fatal. It was stitched, it seemed to have been inflicted by a dagger, driven in with great force, as it passed through her clothing and corset and apparently far into the flesh.

At the hearing Mrs. Hamilton was in-TO 6 ROOMS, FUR-Bapest rooms in town for S. OLIVE ST. URNISHED, TWO FURNISHED OR

ELY-FURNISHED flesh. At the hearing Mrs. Hamilton was informed of the charge against her and pleaded not guilty, and 10 o'clock tomorrow was the hour set for a further hearing. Meantime neither the wounded woman nor either of the defendants can be seen by anybody, by order of the authorities, and it makes the clearing up of mystery the more difficult.

The vounded woman, who was intericated, raved in a most violent manner for an hour or two after she was stabbed. She was heard to say that an old woman who had been calling upon Mrs. Hamilton was not her mother, as she was reputed to be, and a man who came to see her, pretending to be her brother, was not such a relative at all, and that Mrs. Hamilton was a disreputable woman before she married Hamilton. She threatened the Hamiltons with dire vengeance if ever she recovered from her injury. She said to the Doctor while her wound was being dressed that Mrs. Hamilton was jealous of her and of everyboyleise.

It appears that Hamilton married without his father's knowledge, and the latter came on to investigate the character of the woman his son had wed, and who, it now appears, was a disreputable woman. This the servant told Hamilton today, when a quarrel ensued, during which the stabbing took place.

STORY OF THE TRAGEDY.

Disreputable Marriage and It

SOULS about to show that on the state of the ble in New York, he, six months ago, tock his wife and their child, then 2 months old, and Mary Donnelly, the nurse, to Southern California with the intention of locating permanently in the West. He returned disgusted and temporarily took up his residence in Atlantic City two weeks ago. Mrs. Hamilton displayed diamonds and gorgeous attire at the shore, and created a sensation. Then she was robbed, and tonight the officers of Atlantic City are searching for the thief who stole $2000 worth of diamonds from the room in which the tragedy occurred.

THE TRAGEDY

THE TRAGEDY
of today, which will probably end in a trial for murder, came about as follows: Joshua Mann of No. 111 West Fifteenth street, New York, whose mother keeps a house of bad reputation at that address, is an old associate of Mrs. Hamilton. He followed the couple to California and back. A few days ago the husband, who did not know Mann, saw him in Atlantic City, and remembering having seen him in New York, and at nearly every place in his six months' travel through the West, he kept a close watch on him. Last night Mann met Mrs. Hamilton at one of the beer gardens. Here Hamilton had them watched, but said nothing until today, when his wife said she was going to New York city, but would return in a few days.

It was then that his indignation and temper overcame him, and grasping her by the neck he said: "You are my wife and you remain here, let Josh Mann take care of himself."

The name of Mann called by her husband astounded her. She became desperate and ran to the bureau, picked up a Mexican dagger and made

He grappled with her and pushed her over a chair. The nurse Mary Donnelly hearing the noise, and having had to separate the couple times before to prevent bloodshed, rushed into the room. The wife no sooner saw her than she darted at her with a dagger raised and with the words: "You she devil, you are the cause of this, you'll never be about me again," plunged it into the woman's abdomen. The poor woman only, and the selectment in Attained City tonight over the affair is intense.

Mrs. J. W. Swinton, who formerly kept a questionable house at No. 111 West Fifteenth street, New York, is prominent in connection with the tragedy. She is the mother of Joshua Mann, who is a son by her first husband. She is bent and withered, and talks about the bloody affair with the cold-hearted manner of a vice-hardened woman. She and her son and daughter are stopping at the Verona House. She claims to have been instrumental in bringing about the marriage of her protegée to Hamilton, and since the unholy alliance she and her family have been dependent on his well-filled purse.

Justice Irving says late tonight that Mrs. Donnelly has made a statement in which she positively accuses Mrs. Hamilton of attempting to take her life. The nurse adds that Hamilton is instanted with the woman, who is really his wife, as a marriage certificate is in existence and can be produced readity.

SOME STARTLING DEVELORMENTS

SOME STARTLING DEVELOPMENTS are expected concerning the relations of the woman Swinton, which will no doubt include the history of the theft of $30,000 of Hami con's money, a race across the contine charge if not apprehend the culprit, other private matters fast coming to surface. The life of the Hamiltons was a continual round of extraval

By Telegraph to the Times.
MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.), Aug. 26.—[By the Associated Press.] The Tribune's special from Ashland, Wis., says: Black Bart's most daring deeds in the mountain passes of California and Colorado were out-done today by a lone highwayman, who held up and robbed the stage that runs be-tween Gogebic, on the Milwaukee, Lake Shore and Western Railroad, just over the line in Michigan, and Gogebic Lake, a summer resort where people from the large cities spend the dog days. As the stage was running along at a lively gait through the dense forest, when about two miles from was running along at a lively gait through the dense forest, when about two miles from the station, a man jumped out in front of it, and, pointing two big revolvers at the driver, commanded him in good old western style to throw up his hands, at the same time extending the same order to the four passengers inside the coach, with the further provision that they "shell out" all their loose valuables and currency.

One of the passengers went down in his pocket, but instead of bringing up his pocket-book he clinched a pistol in his hand and began firing at the robber. The desperado immediately returned the fire, and although the driver whipped his horses into a mad gallop, his aim was true, B. Mackercher, a book-keeper in the First National Bank of Minneapolis, receiving the first buillet in his cheek, while the second went crashing through his leg.

Another passenger named A. C. Fleeschbain of Belleville, Ill., was mortally wounded. He raised up in his seat as the horses were whipped away, just in time to receive a bullet in the hip. He fell forward and pitched over the side of the coach into the roadway. The horses continued on a run, and the wounded man was left to take his chances with the robber. The villain threatened at first to kill him, but finally desisted, after securing $37 and his victim's watch and chain.

The wounded man lay bleeding in the road for three hours before anyone courageous enough to go to his succor was secured. Physicians say he will not live over night.

Today Mr. Fitzpatrick, of the firm of J. Fitzpatrick & Co., manufacturers of window glass, said: "A trust has been formed, called the United Glass Company. They have bought up ten of the principal plants in New York State and Ohio, but I don't think western manufacturers will join the association. The object in forming the trust is to save expense, make a profit and cheapen the price of the goods. It is considered that this new trust will be the salvation of many small plants that otherwise would have been obliged to close up. COUNCIL.

YE MAYOR COMES DOWN LIKE A THOUSAND OF BRICK.

nd Exposes a Game Put Up by the Sewer-bond Manipulators-

Ine City Council met in the new chamber in the City Hall for the first time yesterday morning, with all of the members present. There were no special ceremonies connected with the dedication of the new chamber. The furniture had been arranged on the floor of the chamber, and chairs placed in the gallery for the use of spectators, and the members of the Council, city officials and others dropped in as usual and took their places, discussing the ew order of things informally while they waited for the proceedings to memore.

At 10:30 o'clock President Frankenfield took the chair and called the meeting to order, and, after the calling of the roll, delivered the following address:

Gentlemen of the Council: I desire at this time to give you a slight history of the cause which led to the building of this, the City Hall, and the beautiful chamber which we are now for the first time permitted to enjoy.

About three years ago the then City Council, of which I was a member, conceived the idea of building a city hall suitable for the demands of our growing city. We had no money and did not wish to issue bonds or ask the people to vote them. A commit-the demands of our growing city. We had no money and did not wish to issue bonds or ask the people to vote them. A committee was appointed to devise some plan by which we could raise money to build with. The city then owned the ground upon which now stands the beautiful Bryson-Bonebrake block. The idea prevalled that the best thing to do was to sell the ground which had been set aside for a city hall and purchase a cheaper location.

The Council thereupon ordered the sale of the city lot, and sold the same to Mr. Bryson at the neat sum of $120,000. Thus you will see we had means at once to operate with. The Council at once advertised for offers of property suitable for a city hall. Many sites were offered, among which was the present site, also the block known as the "St. Vincent College block," which, to the regret of many, was rejected, and as the years of time roll on we shall become more satisfied the Council made a great mistake.

Right here I wish to say that had it not been for the same cry which is made today against the Council of corruption, boodle, jobs, etc., we should today be the happy owners of that valuable piece of property known as the "St. Vincent block." Who of the same class of croakers will dare today to say that $1 of the city's money has been corruptly used in the construction of this building or the purchase of the ground upon which it stands.

The Council at the time consisted of such men as Sinsabaugh, Jones, Breed, Goss, Kuhrts, Holbrook, Hyams, Perry and others of like character. So that, gentlemen of the Council, you must not wonder at the vile and sianderous tongue which is delived reader at the vile and sianderous tongue which is delived reader at the vile and sianderous tongue which is delived reader at the vile and sianderous tongue which is delived reader.

acoustic properties of the chamber were not what they should be, but by cleaned the didn't wast impropably by attending some wires just under the lofty ceiling.

Mr. Hamilton then took the floor, and stated that as M. L. Wicks and Judge Widney were present and desired to address the Council, he moved that they be heard.

The motion prevailed, and Mr. Wicks, as president of the Girls' Home, spoke at some length in favor of allowing Mrs. Watson a salary for her work in reclaiming young girls.

Judge Widney followed in the same vein, declaring that it was not safe for a young girl to walk the streets of Los Angeles alone, and saying that the debachery of girls was carried to such an extent as to justify the organization of a vigilance committee. He also stated that the provocation was enough to justify a popular uprising of the people. He thought that Mrs. Watson had done good work, and he thought the knew something should be paid a salary.

Mr. Hamilton said that from what he knew something should be done. Young girls had been followed to their omes and insulted, and he, for one, was in favor of protecting the wives and daughters of the citizens, if neces-sary, with a revolver. He moved that the City Attorney be instructed to draw up an ordinance empowering the olice Commissioners to provide em-loyment for a woman, in addition to the regular police matron, for the especial protection of young girls. Mr. Bonsall seconded the motion, and, after brief remarks by Mr. Wirshing, it was adopted.

The report of the Board of Public Works, as heretofore published in THE TIMES, was read, and the various recommendations adopted.

The City Attorney's report was pre-sented, which attention is called to the action of the Citizens' Water Company in charging higher rates than are allowed by law, and also its failure to provide water for the citizens of the West End. The City Attorney further

West End. The City Attorney further adds:

For months past this company has failed to properly snopply the citizens with water; in some instances they have been without water for a week at a time, and nowhere in this district has the supply of water been run regularly for the past month, and the citizens have had to watch their chances and catch enough water—while it was on, to supply them while it was off.

The people have patiently waited for some months upon the promises of the company that they would within a short time have sufficient pumps to give them a full supply of water at all times, but these promises have not been fulfilled and the supply of water at all times, but these promises have not been fulfilled and the supply of water is getting less every day. In addition to their failure to supply the proper amounts of water, this company has systematically charged consumers from $1 to $2 more than the rates prescribed by the Council, and in seme instances where the parties have refused to pay such overcharges they have been cut off from water. The secretary of the company does not propose to adhere to the rates fixed by the Council, giving as a reason that they cannot supply the water at these rates without loss.

adhere to the rates fixed by the Council, giving as a reason that they cannot supply the water at these rates without loss.

It is certainly bad enough to be without water from one-third to one-half of the time, but when the company demands water rates for the full month at an amount such greater than that allowed by the ordinance, it certainly requires some attention on the part of your honorable body. I would recommend that immediate steps be taken looking to the forfeiture of any rights this company has to the use of the waters of the Los Angeles River, and that the city proceed to take the works of this comp uny, as revoided in their lease, and operate the same, or that the water which has been appropriated by this company be leased to any responsible individual or company which will guarantee that they will properly supply the inhabitants of the district and charge only the rates established by this Council.

In the matter of the communication from the Knights of Later, asking why the eight-hour law bar not been enforced, the City Attorney stated that there are no legal questions involved. "The Constitution of the State," he says, "provides that eight hours shall constitute a day's labor upon all municipal work. We also have a city ordinance, passed April 8, 1889, to the same effect, making it a misdemeanor for any person to demand, receive or contract for more than eight hours' labor in one day, and if any person has

There was some departs on the marter of the purchase of the safe for the Street Superintendent's diffice, on account of some informality, which was remedied by the Council authorizing a contract to be drawn for the same. The bills for the Arroyo de los Posas bridge were also rejected on the ground that the Street Superintendent had no authority to order the work done.

Clerk Teed then read a message from the Mayor in regard to the Rose sewer contract, calling attention to the glaring injustice which has been done the city. [The document, together with the orignal contract in full will be found on another page.]

The reading of the message was listened to with the closest attention, and was evidently a bombshell to the Ballona-sewer advocates. As soon as they recovered from their surprise, Mr. Wirsching took the floor, and attended to every the confusion into they recovered from their surprise, Mr. Wirsching took the floor, and attempted to cover the confusion into which they had been thrown by stating that he regarded the message as one of the strongest documents he had ever heard in favor of the outfall sewer, at the same time saying that up to the present time His Honor, the Mayor, had been in favor of the sewer, and intimating that he could not understand why he should have changed his stand why he should have changed his

The Council at the time consisted of such men as Sinsabaugh, Jones, Breed, Goss, Kuhrts, Holbrook, Hyams, Perry and others of like character. So that, gentlemen of the Council, you must not wonder at the vile and sianderous tongue which is daily directed at you. It was ever thus. And now let us so conduct ourselves by being faithful to our trust, so that whatever may be said of us now, that in after years the public will say, "Well done, good and faithful servants." As time at last sets all things even, so it is sure to be in our case. May this beautiful building stand as a monument (as it is), a credit to all who were instumental in its construction.

The reading of the address was listened to with marked attention, and on the conclusion the President's remarks were received with applause. It was developed, however, that the acoustic properties of the chamber were not what they should be, but by clear the sindays a crust improvement was had. The defects will probable be remadded.

Mr. Wirsching moved that certain specifications for street paving be amended, but, on objection, the matter went to the Board or Public Works for investigation.

Mr. Van Dusen moved that further proceedings looking to the opening of Hoff street, East Los Angeles, be discontinued, saying that he did not consider it advisable at this time to push the matter, owing to the hard times.

There was some discussion over this matter, which was finally referred to the Board of Public Works, it being stated that if proceedings were stopped now it would entail considerable loss on the city.

now it would entail considerable loss on the city.

Mr. Hamilton introduced the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

As there seems to be a widely prevailing opinion that the bonds to be issued by this city for the construction of the sewer system are to be sold in a body, or as a whole, thereby causing a large amount of money to be deposited in the city treasury, for which the city will derive no benefit, therefore be it.

to be deposited in the city treasury, for which the city will derive no benefit, therefore be it.

Resolved, that it is the sense of this Council, and always has been, that if the people decide that bonds are to be issued for the construction of the sewers, as outlined under the present policy of this Council, said bonds be only Issued and sold as the occasion requires, and that it is not the intention of this Council to Issue said bonds as a whole, nor to place the money derived from their sale on deposit with the City Treasurer, or elsewhere; but that the bonds will be issued only as the construction of the work requires money to be paid; and it is the further sense of this Council that it would be unwise, injudicious unbusiness-like, and not in the interest of good government to do otherwise than outlined above.

Mr. Summerland moved that the Council offer a reward of $250 for the arrest or conviction of any one buying or selling votes at the elections on the 30th and 31st insts.

The City Attorney was called on for his opinion, and stated that he did not think that the charter conferred any right on the Council to appropriate money for any such purpose, whereupon the motion failed for want of a second.

Ever since the Rose contract was passed by the Council, and the announcement was made that an undisputed right of way to the sea had been secured, Mayor Hazard has been waiting for the document to be presented to him for his approval, as is customary in asuch cases. It never came, and Sunday Mr. Hazard determined to look into the matter for himself. He called on Clerk Teed, and from him secured the contract, the

Being at once apparent, the Mayor determined to call the attention of the Council to the glaring inconsistencies of the document, and inconsistencies of the document, and set about preparing a message to this effect. The first intimation that the Council had of anything of the kind was yesterday morning, when it was rumored that such a message was being prepared. This became a certainty toward the noon hour, when it was transmitted to the Council, but was held back until after the adjournment for lunch.

was transmitted to the Council, but was held back until after the adjournment for lunch.

During the recess President Frankenfield waited on Mayor Hazard, and pleaded with him long and earnestly to withhold the message until after the election, urging that its presentation at this time would be fatal to the bonds. The Mayor stood firm, and declined to recede from the position he had taken. He pointed out the unfair advantage which was sought to be taken of the people, the underhand manner in which it was intended to get the scheme through by having the Clerk sign the contract for the city, instead of himself, for the reason that it must have been known that neither himself nor any other man who had the best interests of the city at heart could have conscientiously put his name to the contract in the shape it which it was, and stood firm in the position which he had taken. So engrossed was Mr. Frankenfield in trying to persuade the Mayor to withhold the message that he forgot about the meeting of the Council at 20'clock, and it was 20 minutes past that hour when he gave up the task and appeared in the Council chamber, where the proceedings were under way, with Mr. Bonsall in the chair.

Shortly after Mr. Frankenfield had taken the chair Clerk Teed announced and one the line, and dozens of men who have heretofore been on the side of the bonds have openly declared that they will vote against them, for, if trickery has been resorted to in one instance, it will be unsafe to take anything for granted, and therefore the only sure safeguard is to vote them down.

A pin could have been heard to drop. Josie Corbett on the Witness Stand HENRY T. HAZARD, Mayor.

A pin could have been heard to drop during the reading of the message, and when the Clerk finished, the members looked at each other in a dazed, confused sort of way for a few seconds before they could collect their senses.

Mr. Wirsching first found his tongue, and made a desperate attempt to twist the message into a bond argument, but gave it up after a few trials, and sat down. Under a Fire of Cross-questions Some Things She Remembers Very Well, but Others Not at Yesterday in Justice Lockwood's court was devoted to the cross-examination of Josie Corbett, who at one time in the several Garrett-Edgecomb cases was a somewhat remarkable witness for Capt. Garrett, against whom she appeared yesterday. The effort yester-day of Mr. Williams, Garrett's attor-ney, was particularly to catch her in contradictory statements and generally to show her unreliability. In the latter he succeeded, but not so well in the former. Between the refusal of the The embarrassment was becoming painful, when the President relieved the ssure by asking in a helpless sort way what should be done with the message, when, on motion, it was received and placed on file. Regular routine business was then taken up and continued without incident up to the hour of adjournment, the members witness to answer his questions or her seemingly poor memory and objections of the District Attorney and his assistant at critical times, and adverse rulings of the Court, Mr. Williams fared rather hardly. After being knocked out several times by Mr. Payton with objections immediately following critical questions, he made it very interesting for a few moments during the after-noon with a round denunciation of At-torney Payton and his associate, charging them with purposely interposing objections designed to guide the witobjections designed to guide the witness.

Justice Lockwood's firmness soon restored order, however, and Mr. Payton disclaimed the motives imputed to him.

Before court opened in the morning Mr. Williams showed a decided disposition to prosecute Miss Corbett for perjury. To offset this, Mr. Payton demanded the fragments of a statement of what she should testify to in the case against Edgecomb, alleged by her to have been written by Capt. Garrett for her, and Mr. Williams, showing some indisposition to surrender them with alacrity, Mr. Payton proceeded to obtain them by means of a subpone dices tecum, they being finally lodged in the keeping of the court.

"Were you ever at Santa Paula?"

"I never was."

"Did Garrett offer you any consideration to swear to the lies you say he prepared for you except a railroad ticket to San Francisco?"

"Well, my mether is all right but she isn't very kind to me, and I have a step-father, and if isn't a pleasant home for me, and Mr. Garrett said he would buy me a ticket to San Francisco if I would awear to the story he wrote for me. There was no other consideration except the ticket to San Francisco."

"No, sir."
"How did you come to do it, then, if you were friendly with her and had no reason to do so?""

"I suppose I could tell her that."
Referring to the agreement, witness-stated she had agreed with Capt. Garrett to swear falsely against Edgecomb in consideration of Garrett's helping her out of an unpleasant home and giving her a ticket to San Francisco.

Mr. Williams asked: "Then, if I Mr. Williams asked: "Then, it I understand you right, you were willing to send innocent people to the penitentiary because you had an unpleasant home and Capt. Garrett offered you a ticket to San Francisco."

"Did you ever ask Capt. Garrett for the $10 you say he agreed to pay you if you would swear for him?"

"No, sir."

"Why not?"

"You say you remained in the city because you had made up your mind to tell the truth. How did you come to make up your mind to do that?"

"Mrs. Davisson persuaded me to. She always told me I was lying about the Edgecomb matter and wanted me to-tell the truth. How did you come to make up your mind to do that?"

By common consent the dubious and blundering work done in the Council yesterday gives the coup de grace, otherwise the finishing stroke, to the sewerbond monster. On Friday the voters will have only to jump on the prostrate frame and dance all over the mangled carcass of the deceased. Choose your partners for the waltz!

THE Republicans yesterday nominated as a candidate for Supervisor from the Fifth Supervisorial District Henry C. Hubbard of San Fernando the Democrats placing in the field C. R. Patterson. Mr. Hubbard is a good citizen, who would make a good Supervisor, and we take no risk in asserting that he will be elected.

STRONG appeals were made to Mayor Hazard vesterday by certain managers of the sewer-bond scheme to withdraw his message against the Rose contract. action was right and necessary, the Mayor properly declined to stultify himself by a compliance

"HELP us, Cassius, or we sink," was the Macedonian cry that went up from the rattled Council chamber yesterday, when Mayor Hazard's pertinent, perpendicular, and puncturing message on the Rose sewage-water cinch contract was sent to the seven-sided body. But Cassius (whose other name is Hazard) refused to help, and the sinking process has already begun.

IT was not a seemly thing for the Council to deliberately and designedly conceal from the Mayor an important contract which of right he should have een called upon to examine and approve, if approval it deserved. It was dark and devious. Why was the thing men is, proportionately, as much indone? Was it an iniquitous proceeding, that would not bear the light of Ballona scheme as is the owner of day? Echo answers, "Si, senor, by a majority may grande."

THE MAYOR SPRINGS A MINE.

The worst blow which the boodlers of a message from the Mayor, on the sewer question. It produced marked consternation in the boodlers' camp, which they were too nervous to conceal.

From time to time, it has been asserted that the city was paying a big price for right of way across Mr. Anderson Roše's land, in giving him 50 inches of sewage out of a possible 100. It has also been hinted that the conditions of the agreement with Mr. Rose tied the city up in a very dangerous manner, but nobody dreamed that the matter was so bad as it is now shown to be In fact, without practical demonstration in black and white, no sane person could for a moment imagine that a city would seriously propose to tie itself up in this manner. even though the members of that city's legislature are hungering and thirsting for the pickings and stealings which scheme is put through during their term of office.

The conditions of this precious consee the outrageous character of the inwould refuse to sign it, had taken the illegal-course of having the contract Mayor, who had not seen it until Sunday. This of itself is an admissionif an admission were needed—that the contract is something to be ashamed of, but the mere perusal of the document, as published by us this morning, is enough.

There are over 40 onerous conditions in the contract. One forfeits the rights of the city, in case of failure to keep a continuous flow, but perhaps the most extraordinary and outrageous provision of this most outrageous agreement is that which makes it obligatory for the city to carry into the ocean all the sewage that is not deposited on Mr. Rose's land! That is to say, a drop cannot be diverted or used. Should the city desire to fertilize any of the sandy land which it purchases, it cannot do so. After Mr. Rose has received his quantity of half the city's surplus sewage, the rest must absolutely be dumped into the ocean, for what reason it is difficult to conceive, unless it be for the same reason which induces San Francisco fruit merchants to occasionally dump watermelons into the bay—in order to raise the value of the remaining stock.

In short, the purport of this contract cannot be better or more concisely stated than in the words of Mayor Hazard, who said yesterday to a Times reporter: "Every right been held for the protection of the community has been deliberately sacrificed, and the absolute control of the entire sower has been placed in the hands of one individual, who, for any trifling failure to fulfill either one of the forty odd provisions of the contract, is guaranteed the right to stop up the sewer and enter upon

This message sounds the death-knell of the Ballona steal. We say, with Mayor Hazard, who, up to this time, has favored the bonds, that we do not see how any man of honor can vote for the bonds, with such a contract hanging over their heads.

THE BOODLERS AND THE WORK INGMEN

The boodlers have combined for one last desperate and vigorous pull, and it is evident that from now on to election day the main force of their attack is to be directed at the workingmen Their only hope now is to secure the workingmen's vote. The two Ballona cheme organs have received their cue and both the Trombone and Express vesterday overflowed with pen pictures of the luxury which would be enjoyed by the masses, when $2000 a day shall spent, and with plaintive appeals to the "honest workingman" to come over and help them at the polls.

It is not very complimentary to the laborers of Los Angeles, who are voters, to attempt to influence their votes on an important municipal question by the offer of some pick-andshovel work. While these schemers roll the "honest workingman" so unctuously round their tongues. they are really insulting the laborers, by offering them a bribe with these frightened appeals. He did for their assistance in voting a system right, and will be applauded by the which will line the purses of a few corrupt men, while almost bankrupt ing the city. We mistake the char eter of the Los Angeles workingmen altogether, if they do not show their resentment, at the polls, of the insult ingly confident manner in which these boodlers take it for granted that, because men toil with their hands, they can be bribed, by the offer of hard labor, to assist in a gigantic steal.

Again, there is perhaps no city in the Union, where so many workingmen-and workingwomen-own prop erty, as in Los Angeles. Some own homes of their own, others lots, upon which they hope to build one day; thus, altogether, a large proportion of the workingmen, who are voters, are also seemly, but on the contrary property-owners. Every one of these millions. Before that outrageous scheme is completed—should it ever poor men.

But, returning to the question of labor, is it a fact that the building of the Ballona sewer would prove such a bonanza to the unemployed laboring nen of Los Angeles? Let us see!

The Council has refused to accede to the request of the workingmen to have the work on the sewers performed by day labor. That was not down on the Council's programme. It has also refused to confine the work on sewers to voters, or to residents of Los Ange-A resolution to that affect les. introduced a week or so ago, but it was quietly ferred" away somewhere, where will remain safely perdu until the election is over. There is, therefore, absolutely nothing to prevent the favored gentlemen who are to receive the contracts for the sewers-and the division is said to have already been nade-from hiring labor wherever they can find it, at the lowest price which will be accepted. Is any Los Angeles workingman simple enough to believe that these contractors will will be theirs, if this disgraceful pay one cent a day more than they are forced to: when a cent a may mean several thousand dollars out of their pockets in course of two years? No, indeed! tract might have remained a secret un- The city charter may prohibit the til now, but for an accident, for the hiring of Chinamen, but it does not Council, fully aware of the fact that forbid the sending east for Hun Mr. Hazard, as a lawyer, would at once garian and Italian laborers, to whom the ordinary wages of a Chinese secstrument, and, as an honest man, high. If men cannot be had for less than a dollar a day, they will be underhand and extraordinary—if not paid a dollar, but not otherwise. And this is the quality of the pottage for signed by the City Clerk, instead of the which the boodlers ask Los Angeles laborers to sell their birthright votes! The workingmen would indeed be something a little more-or lessthan human, if they did not indignantly resent so gross an insult to their onor and intelligence. In short, when the boodlers count upon the workingmen to help them pull their 1,280,000 chestnuts out of the fire, they are most completely deceived. It is the workingmen who will defeat the bonds, and for these reasons: 1. Because a large number of the workingmen voters are property-owners who would be the greatest sufferers by the excessive taxation which the expenditure of this extravagant mount of money would entail.

2. Because all workingmen-property-owners or not-who intend to stay nere would share in the hard times which would come with the reaction from this unnecessary expenditure.

3. Because the workingmen are alive to the fact that the promise of remunerative labor is merely a glittering bait, and they will resent the refusal of the Council to give any guarantee against the importation of cheap labor from the East

JUDGE SMITH, well known as a orny-handed workingman, says the ontest over the bonds is one of capital against labor. Can it be the Judge is one of the "paid attorneys" referred to by the boodle organ? Judge Gottschalk, another speaker at the Satur day night's meeting, is another friend of the laboring man who took especia pains to array the prejudices of that class of honest voters against capital and privilege that should have He is a director in a bank. When did the judge ever show any interest in the workingman? It is barely possible the men who have aided in making Los Angeles a desirable city in which to live are quite as patriotic and have as much interest as does Judge Gott schalk in its future prosperity. There is a large amount of "rot" to make said grant and notify the city authorities that they will resist, by every legal means in their power, and through all the courts, any attempt to place the sewer upon that highway. This is only a little sample of what might be expected to happen directly the sewer bonds were voted.

The Trombone got off a more than usually brilliant argument in favor of authorities that they will resist, by the sewer bonds were voted.

It stated, as an inducement to vote the bonds, that the $1,280,000 "is foreign of the san blego Land and Town Company, owners of the Sweetwate reservoir, has been attached by Neale et al. to compel payment of a judgment for $123, 000.

THE Express refers, in a most heartbreaking manner, to the "densely pop ulated and disease-preeding sections of the city" in which the "poor working-men" of Los Angeles live. Where, oh where are these densely populated slums? Isn't our contemporary making itself slightly ridiculous, in its attempt to bolster up a losing cause?

THE Express has something to say about "insulting innuendoes" in relation to the workingmen. The "insult ing innuendoes" come from its side when it takes it for granted that the workingmen are all paupers, who own no property, and that they can be bribed by the offer of hard labor at low wages to vote for a steal.

A SHORT time ago Mr. Eaton told the South Side property-owners that there was no danger from sewer gas as long as the sewage was not co but perfectly aerated. When Mr. Eaton said that he must have had a sewer farm in his mind's eye, as it were.

THE London strike begins to assume serious phase. So far no outrages ave occurred, but with so many the sands of hungry and desperate men idle there is no telling what may hapen at any time.

A BLOODY AFFRAY.

Pitched Battle Among Negroes in an

Arkansas Forest. LITTLE ROCK (Ark.), Aug. 26.—[By the Associated Press.] The Register tomorrow morning will say: The following information reached this city yesterday of a terrible negro riot at Jordanbrook, not far Lockesburg, Sevier county, resulting in the death of several and the wounding of many others. Jordanbrook is a small town situ ated on the edge of an immense strip of pine timber, many miles from the neares telegraph office. For some time the negroes of that county have been spending their Saturday nights in a jubilee ceremony in the woods near the town, and last Satur av night was the time set for an especiali arge and uproarious gathering. A great quantity of whisky was introduced, people

Three of the injured are reported to have since died, one of the three being Mrs. Grace Peters of Emporia, Kan. Exact information is hard to obtain, owing to the extreme reticence of the railway company. The accident was caused by a chair car, which was the third behind the engine, jumping the track. It was ditched instantly, taking with it three sleepers behind. A rail was found projecting through the bottom of the chair-car and out of the side about three leet from the bottom. The car was full of passengers, and the scene when the car left the track was exciting in the extreme. The train was running at a high rate of speed. The track where the derailment occurred is understood to have been in poor condition. It is believed if the train had been of ordinary pattern instead.

A DESPERATE GANG.

West Virginia Bandits Captured-Their Remarkable Operations.
WHEELING (W.V.), Aug. 26.—[By the Associated Press.] For the past 15 years a well-organized gang of robbers has been operating in the southwestern portion of Greene county, Pa., and ern portion of Marshall and ern portion of Marshall and Wetzel counties, W. Va., and during all that time has defied successful prosecution. Horses, sheep and swine have been stolen, granaries and corneribs robbed, mills broken open and looted, stores raided, and every species of farm machinery and other portable property carried off. The headquarters of the gauge was in Pennsylvania, and everything stolen was hurried over the line. Arrests were often made in Greene county, but there were always enough of the rascals to swear their suspected conrades out of trouble.

On Saturday last David Gorby and Hezekiah Kemble were arrested and taken to Littletown Jait; there Gorby made a confession extending over a period of 14 years and including nearly 75 robbers. Four other arrests were made at once, and many others will follow, thoroughly breaking up the gang.

One warehouse was destroyed. The fire is still burning, but under control.

The fire started about 4 o'clock this morning. Efforts were made at once to save the freight cars on the dock, but about 35 cars, one fourth of which were loaded with grain, were burned. A stiff wind was blowing off shore and the flames soon communicated with the shipping. The Armenia, Kenilworth and Honsmoore were on fire in a few minutes. There was only one small engine available. The origin of the fire is not known.

available. The origin of the me is now known.

The loss is greater than at first supposed and may reach nearly $500,000. Great quantities of wheat were stored in the warehouse and on the ships, and it is estimated that $250,000 worth of it was destroyed. The loss on the ships, wharves, warehouse and cars will probably reach nearly $250,000 more.

meeting in a brief and effective speech, after which O. O. Trantum was introduced.

"I may be a silurian, a fossil, a barnacle," he said, "though I am not opposed to a fair, sanitary sewer system. But I am opposed to the proposed sewer scheme. It is unnecessary and extravagant. At first I thought I was in favor of it because I supposed it had the indorsement of some of the highest sanitary authorities in the United States. But I find that there is no likeness between the proposed system and that indorsed by Mr. Herring, the eminent specialist, whom, with Mr. Waring, we employed to devise and approve a sanitary sewer system for this city.

"This system now proposed is not at all the one many people suppose they are voting upon. The $548,000 proposed for storm drains was not in the system adopted by the Council in 1887. In that plan there were 15 main sewers for the benefit of the people, aside from the intercepting sewers, of course. The system contemplated the westward to Redondo, on the line of which, Mr. Herring said, there were 6000 acres suitable to use the sewage for irrigation, of which 2000 or 3000 acres suitable to use sewage for irrigation, of which 2000 or 3000 acres suitable to use the sewage for irrigation, of which 2000 or 3000 acres suitable to use the sewage of the city when its population reaches 200,000. The proposition we are now voting on is to appropriate $1,280,000 to build storm sewers for the benefit of the South Side Irrigation Company. It is a monopoly and against the people of Los Angeles. There is of the Council but one-Bonsall; there is of those who are hanging on to offices but two, clerks and otherwise; or of those who are hanging on to offices but wo, clerks and otherwise; or of those who are hanging on to offices but wo, clerks and otherwise; or of those who are hanging on to offices but wo, clerks and otherwise; or of those who are hanging on to offices but wo, clerks and otherwise; or of those who are handing the handing the handing the handing the handing the handing the handi proposed is not received. CUSED OF THE CRIME.

Circumstances of the Assassination Detailed-A Family Fond Sup posed to Be at the Bottom of It -Lopera Captured and Morales

SANTA ANA, Aug. 26, 2 p.m.-[Cor. respondence of THE TIMES.] Sheriff Harris and Marshal Insley have just returned from Capistrano, the scene of Saturday night's murder. They report that as yet no definite clew is obtainable as to the identity of the murderer of Charles. In a dying state-ment made by the deceased, the name ment made by the deceased, the name of Emelio Lopera is given as probably the perpetrator of the deed. The latter is a stepson of Charles, and it would appear from the fact that in a will made just previous to his death of Emelio Lopera is given as probably the perpetrator of the deed. The latwill made just previous to his death to his second wife and daughter, showto his second wife and daughter, showing distayor toward Lopera, that the affair is the outcome of a family feud.

The circumstances of the killing as Washington, Haddock and Daly. Umpire, The circumstances of the killing, as Powers. narrated by Charles, are as follows: About 10:30 Saturday night Charles proceeded to a shed or addition in the rear of his residence to get some tobacco with which to fill his pipe. Upon entering the shed he struck a match, and almost immediately he was shot. Price, Including Paper One Year, $2,

This beautiful book is the most practical work of the kind that has ever been printed and will be warmly welcomed by our readers. Its author has had a long and extended ex-perience in artistic needlework, and in this volume she has carefully set forth the results of her study and labor in this fascinating department of art. She has illustrated her work by means of COLORED PLATES, each one of which is made directly from the piece of embroidery which it represents. On one page of the book she shows an outline pattern of the leaves, and on the opposite page is a ceautiful COLORED PLATE showing the pattern as it appears after it has been properly worked. This plate shows the exact colors that were used in doing the work, and the outline nattern is lettered and numbered, and the author gives full directions for working the colors.

THERE ARE EIGHT OF THESE COLORED PLATES, AS FOLLOWS:

Autumn Leaves,

Yellow Daisies, Golden Rod,

Morning Glories, Thistles. Pansies

Any lady can master the beautiful art of embroidery in colors without any other instructions than this, valuable book gives. THIS WORK IS PRINTED ON HEAVY TINTED PAPER and is bound with beautifully illuminated cover. It is such a book as ordinarilly sells in book stores for $2, but because it is a volume especially adapted to the needs of every household we have put the price within the reach of all.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Money on call easy at 263% per cent.

Prime mercantile paper, 5½(67½...

Sterling exchange, weak; 60-day bills, 4.83½: demand, 4.863½.

Government bonds, dull but steady.

American cotton oil, 52½.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The stock market opened with some animation and a decidedly strong tone, in marked centrast to the weakness in last week's trading. The bulls gained confidence as the day wore along, and when the announcement was made that the Secretary of the Treasury had accepted over a million and a half of bonds, the bullish feeling became more pronounced and ish feeling became more pronounced and the market showed it in increased activity prices. Speciaties felt the stimulus most strongly, and Cleveland, Columbus and St. Louis made a spurt of over 2½ per cent., while coal stocks were specially prominent in the rise, and Jersey Central and Delaware and Hudson reached still higher figures than ever before in the history of the company. The movement, however, ex-tended to the entire list, and everything continued to rise until the close, which was fairly active and strong at the best prices of the day.

THE 27TH OF AUGUST.

HISTORICAL MILESTONES OF THE WORLD'S PROGRESS.

The Battle of Long Island-Pope Sixtus V.: His Humble Origin-Julius Cæsar in Britain-John Milton and Some of His Works.

The disastrous battle of Long Island occurred August 27, 1776. Gen. Sir William Howe had reached New York in July and was soon joined by his brother, Admiral Howe, and Sir Henry Clinton, with a total force of 30,000 men, admirably equipped and disciplined. The fleet comprised 10 ships-of-the-line, 20 frigates and 400 ships and transports. It was the last of August before Clinton crossed over to Long Island. Brooklyn was defended by a line of entrenchments extending from Gowanus to Wallabout Bay, and a force of 9000 men under Sullivan and Lord Sterling. Gen. Greene being ill, Putnam commanded in his stead. Two and a half miles south of the line were wooded heights, reached by three roads, the main road being by a fatal oversight left unguarded. The British crossed Shoemaker's bridge over the marsh near New Lots, which a single regiment could have prevented, and before daylight seized the Jamaica and Bedford passes, while the Americans were yet unaware that the enemy had left Flatbush. Clinton fell upon the American left, while the Hessians attacked Sullivan's position. It was too late to a force of 9000 men under Sullivan livan's position. It was too late to retreat, and they were cut down without mercy, no plea for quarter being heard by the enemy. But the Americans sold their lives as dearly as possible Some general means were cans sold their lives as dearly as possible. Some escaped, many were captured, and Cornwallis rushed upon Sterling, but the latter held the enemy at bay with his Maryland troops till the rest of the army had effected a retreat. In this attempt Sterling was captured and 250 of his men were killed. Washington, who beheld the disaster from an eminence, wrung his hands in agony, exclaiming: "What brave fellows! I must lose this day." Such was the sad augury of the Republic which had just declared its independence. The British loss in the battle was 450; that of the Americans, 2000 POPE SIXTUS V. died August 27, 1590. Many of the popes have been of the humblest extraction. Sixtus V. was the son of a poor pig-dealer at Montalto, and born there in 1521. It may fairly be said that no occupant of the Holy See has left a stronger mark upon his age. Elizabeth upon the throne of England, Henry IV. upon that of France, and Sixtus V. upon that of Rome, was a wonderful cluster of sovereigns for one wonderful cluster of sovereigns for one period. Having, as a cardinal, long appeared imbecile, he was elected by the concurrent voices of several who hoped to reign in his name, and knew that individually, they could not command a majority. It seemed as if so feeble and sickly a man could not long restrone another election. When at mand a majority. It seemed as if so feeble and sickly a man could not long postpone another election. When at length informed that he was Pope, Sixtus threw up his staff, smothed his wrinkles and joined the Te Deum, with a voice so powerful as to make his electors tremble. He at the same time informed them that his age was seven years less than had been supposed. Immediately there commenced an administrative extraordinary vigor. The bandittiperished and disappeared before the sternness of his justice. He entered upon wonderful measures for the decoration of Rome. He excommunicated sweral Protestant princes, yet afterwards, it is said, coming to know Henry of France and Elizabeth of England, he conceived a high respect for them and actually brought over Henry to the Church of Rome. Of Elizabeth he characteristically remarked: "She is a big head—that queen—could I have espoused her, what a breed of great princes we might have had!" His sternness in the infliction of the death penalty bordered on cruelty. "I wish justice to be done before dinner," he said to the Governor of Rome, "so make haste, for I am hungry." am hungry."

CÆSAR IN BRITAIN. Sunday, August 27, B.C. 35, may be considered as the day on which Julius Cæsar made his memorable first landing in Britain. Owing to the vague-ness of his own account, there is some ness of his own account, there is some discussion as to the place of the landing, which has not been altogether cleared up. Cæsar encountered great difficulties in making good his first footing upon the island than he had at first expected. He was not aware that the Southern Britons were well advanced in native civilization, as was evident from the crowded population, which is never found in a state of barbarism. Although the Romans held the island four centuries, the traces of their occupation were almost completely effaced by the Saxon conquest.

JOHN MILTON

JOHN MILTON was all his life a Liberal in the fullest sense of the term. When the restoration of Charles II. was imminent, Milton's position was perilous. Among other books, his "Iconoclastes" and his "Defense of the English People," contain sentiments which Charles and his courtiers could not tolerate. Just before the Restoration in 1660, Milton had written to Gen. Monk a letter on "The Ready and Easy Way to Establish a Free Commonwealth." On Charles's accession Milton retired into seclusion at the house of a friend in Bartholomew Close. No effort was made to pursue him, the great literary reputation of Milton commanding the respect even of his enemies. But on June 16, 1660, the House of Commons passed a resolution, praying the King to direct that all copies of the before-mentioned books of Milton should be seized and burned by the common hangman. This tion of Charles II. was imminent, Milborned by the common hangman. This resolution was carried out on the 27th of August.

The suit is to declare void the sale of 300 acres of land at Ballona to defendant by plaintiff. Mr. Freeman sold the company the disputed tract at a time when the company expected to build a harbor at Ballona.

A great many people are visiting the new art gallery in the Bryson-Bonebrake block and a few paintings have been sold, and as the collection is not large it will not take a great while to dispose of them all. The figure painting of "The Temptation of St. Anthony" is still in the Sawtelle collection, besides "Aurora" and a few others.

UNITED STATES COURT.

Gonjon Denied Credits-The Wy-

The United States District Court was in session a short time yesterday morning, and in the matter of the writ of habeas corpus taken out by H. Gonjon, who is serving a sentence of six months for contempt, Judge Ross remanded the prisoner to the custody of the Sheriff. Gonjon claimed in his petition that he is entitled to credits for good behavior, but Judge Ross was of the opinion that a United States prisoner is placed on the same footing with other prisoners where credits are not allowed.

At 2 o'clock Commissoner Van Dyke tcok up the examination of Wolf, the San Diego smuggler. Several witnesses were examined, but no new facts were brought out, and at 5 o'clock facts were brought out, and at 5 o'clock the case was continued until this morning at 9 o'clock. The United States District Attorney seemed to be alraid that the defendant might jump his bail, and moved to have his bail raised from $500 to $1000. The Court granted the motion and at a late hour last night Wolf was looking for bail. Henry T. Gage, Esq., attorney for the defendant, thought it an injustice to raise the bail of a man who is so far away from home and among strangers.

Acute Bronchitis. Acute Bronchitis.

This is an inflammation of the mucous membrane lining the bronchial tubes, and is one of the most common of all the pulmonary disease. It is a dangerous disease, as it prevents the oxygenation of the blood, and in many cases, particularly after it passes into the chronic stage, the substance of the lungs becomes seriously involved giving rise to what is very properly called oronchial consumption. In the acute form there is a sense of tightness or pressure across the chest, with considerable wheezing, serore cough and expectoration. This is at first a white giairy mucus, which after a time becomes purules. The patient in some cases is obliged that the patient is set in and in fatal cases there will be muttering delirium, coma and death.

Chronic Bronchitis is also an inflammation of the mucous membrane of bronchial tubes. But this form more often occurs tater in life. When a cold settles on the lungs, the disease either ends in bronchitis it usually passes off as a cold in the chest, and still the patient does not feel entirely well. He feels tired and languid, and is incapable of taking his usual amount of exercise, and experiences a shortness of breath, with more or less warmth in the palms of his hands. Soon after this a cough appears, accompanied by an expectoration of thick mucous, followed by a hectic dush, loss of flesh and strength, and night sweats continue, when the patient assumes all the appearance of having a genuine case of consumption.
